

The 5 Communication Standards

- 1. The support network understands about an individual's total communication rights.
- 2. The support network understands about each individual's communication needs and uses a total communication approach with them.
- 3. The support network develops good and lasting skills in total communication through training.
- 4. The support network has up to date and available information about an individual's communication needs and use.
- 5. The support network regularly checks how good it is at communication support.

For more information, ideas and resources on Total Communication, visit our website at www.oxtc.co.uk